Moderator:

Debra Kagan, Executive Director, New Jersey Bike & Walk Coalition

Introductions:

Essex County Commissioner, NJBWC Board Member Brendan Gill

Keynote Speakers:

Lieutenant Governor Sheila Oliver

Self-described as a "Jersey Girl", Lieutenant Governor Oliver has pioneered a successful career in public service advocating for social justice, women's equality, and education, ultimately becoming the first woman of color to serve in a statewide elected office in New Jersey history. In addition to her role as Lieutenant Governor, she serves as Commissioner of the Department of Community Affairs. In her keynote speech, the Lt. Governor addresses the importance of shifting our focus to designing "complete streets" that are safe for all bikers and walkers of all ages, abilities, and income levels. She shares the many DCA services and programs available to municipalities to build safer, stronger, and more bike/ped-friendly communities.

U.S. Representative Mikie Sherrill

Rep. Mikie Sherrill graduated from the Naval Academy and served in the Navy for almost 10 years as a Sea King helicopter pilot and Russian policy officer. She went on to attend Georgetown University Law School and serve as a federal prosecutor at the US Attorney's Office in Newark, NJ. She serves on the House Armed Services, Science, Space and Technology, and Education and Labor Committees. She proudly owns the title of the "tunnel-obsessed Congresswoman" due to her tireless advocacy for infrastructure investments crucial to Northern New Jersey and the entire country. In her address, Rep. Sherrill will focus on the importance of prioritizing these investments to reimagine how our communities can work better for all people and ensure we're paving the way for the future in a sustainable manner.

SafeRoutes Academy 4:00-5:00 PM – NO MONEY. NO PROBLEM: MEET YOUR SAFE ROUTES COORDINATOR.

Over the past year, more children and youth have been walking and bicycling in and around their neighborhoods, increasing the need for safety education, programs, and resources. Safe Routes Regional Coordinators from the state's eight Transportation Management Associations (TMAs) are funded through a partnership with the NJ Department of Transportation (NJDOT) to provide free technical assistance to help your school or community address safer conditions for walking and bicycling. In this session, we will discuss some of the resources and programs available through Safe Routes Regional Coordinators who can help to provide the inspiration and education needed to keep families walking and bicycling. Participants will meet the TMA staff who serve their municipality and learn more about how they can support your community.

4:00-5:00 PM – COVID LESSONS LEARNED: FROM TACTICAL TO PRACTICAL

The pandemic spurred tremendous innovation in tactical approaches to expand the capacity of our streets to accommodate people and commerce more safely. These experiments validated the demand for complete streets that provide a better balance between roadway users. At the same time, many of these pilots highlighted real conflicts that need to be thought through more thoroughly if they are going to transition to permanent solutions. The session will provide advice for those looking to transition from tactical to practical implementation of complete streets.

THURSDAY, JUNE 3

9:30-10:30 AM – SAFE MOBILITY FOR ALL: ACHIEVING VISION ZERO IN NEW JERSEY

Is Vision Zero achievable? In 2019, Oslo was the first major world city to see zero pedestrian and cyclist fatalities in its city center. Closer to home, Hoboken has also eliminated traffic fatalities for three years running. So, yes Vision Zero is achievable. What exactly is Vision Zero and why should it be a part of our transportation policy in New Jersey? This session will explain the concept of Vision Zero and how it is related to Complete Streets, introduce the recently launched Vision Zero NJ Alliance and its mission, and dive into what the implementation of a Vision Zero policy/strategy looks like at different stages and how you can advocate for Vision Zero in your Municipality.

THURSDAY, JUNE 3

12:00 -1:00 PM – THE INTERSECTIONALITY OF TRAILS, EQUITY AND ENVIRONMENTAL JUSTICE

It's spring – time to get out into New Jersey's great green spaces and enjoy the fresh air. The Garden State has hundreds of parks, trails and sights to explore. It's so easy – lace up your walking shoes and step out on a leafy path, grab your bike and hit a trail, or just take a seat on a park bench and people watch. However, if you're a resident of one of New Jersey's overburdened and highly urban communities, it's likely your access to open space may be limited. Olivia Glenn, Deputy Commissioner for Environmental Justice and Equity at the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection, will speak about the history of practices embedded in racial injustice and the DEP's efforts to ensure that all New Jerseyans can experience the benefits of nature and a healthy environment.

4:00-5:00 PM – BUILDING MUNICIPAL SUPPORT FOR BETTER STREETS

How do you get started identifying and addressing pedestrian and bicycle opportunities and concerns in your community? How do you adopt Complete and Green Streets in your municipality? How do you formalize a local committee? Local advocates from several New Jersey communities will share lessons learned and methods and tactics that have worked for them to build local support and adopt and implement Complete and Green Streets policies. This session will help you identify potential partners within your community, create important partnerships among other stakeholders, and generate ideas and actions to make walking and bicycling safer and more desirable modes of transportation.

12:00-1:00 PM – CONNECTING COMMUNITIES THROUGHOUT STAGES OF TRAIL DEVELOPMENT

Trails, like people, go through several stages of development, each requiring strategies to address the unique characteristics and challenges that a particular phase of the lifecycle presents. What equity and inclusion considerations are important in a trail's infancy stage? How does the need for partners and fundraising change as the project progresses? What management structures are needed after the trail's construction? In this session, we will hear from the trail experts of three trails in three different stages of development and will showcase how multi-county trails can connect our most challenged communities and provide mobility options that are environmentally and economically sustainable.

SATURDAY, JUNE 5

9:30-11:00 AM – ADVOCATES IN ACTION PART 2: COVID AND BEYOND

Bike/ped advocates have long been champions of social equity, accessibility, health, and sustainability. Since the pandemic, people all over the world are finally recognizing what the advocates have known all along - to achieve these values, it is critical to reduce automotive dependency, offer safe and convenient alternatives to driving, and to think differently about how we use our valuable public space. Using this momentum, we are reimagining our streets, neighborhoods, and business districts as places not just for cars, but for all people. In this session, hear experiences from advocates around NJ followed by “roundtable” breakout discussions to share ways that we’ve succeeded - or are still working- to build better places for people.
